THE SCHOOL CHILDREN IN PAGEANT

Nearly Two Thousand of the Coming Generation March in Gaily Attire Down Main Street Presenting the Most Beautiful Sight Ever Witnessed Here

Thursday afternoon was a great occasion for High Point for on that day its crop of children showed up most conspicuously. Over 1600 of them, ranging in years from six to twenty, representing almost every period of American life, traversed the Main Streets of High Point before the eyes of thousands of proud fathers and mothers and scores of other interested people. The parade was at least a mile long and took 35 minutes to pass a given point. Every group was a prize winner and it is hard to particularize but if any preference should be given it would lean towards the Elm street aggregation.

High Point fathers and mothers spent at least $3,500 in preparation for the big May Day event and not a one begrudged the money or all the effort put forth when they saw their little darlings pass in triumphant splendor before their eyes and receive the plaudits of the multitudes assembled. It was a sight for the gods, a scene that would have compared with the old English May Day fetes or the Roman celebrations of their festivities.

The pageant was gotten up as an added attraction for the Federation of Women's Clubs and the visitors were amazed, bewildered at such a gigantic spectacle.

The Indians from Main Street school led the procession which was guarded by Chief Gray and Officer Carroll on their prancing steeds.

Columbus and the Discovery of America came next, and others followed as here given: The Puritans, Maryland; the Quakers; North Carolina; Edenton Tea Party; South Carolina; Georgia; old Time Slavery; Gold Rush to California; Daniel Boone with the veritable goat; May Day Season; Paint-up Week; School gardens and springtime; The kiddies from Park street school representing spring, summer, autumn and winter; The Elm street school brought up the rear with the soldier boys, Red Cross nurses, Women's club, Navy, Medical corps, little tots wearing streamers welcoming the visitors to the city, etc.

There was not a hitch in the whole affair and the children marched like veterans. It was a sublime sight and should be perpetuated in song, story and picture. Many photographs were taken of the procession enroute and there should have been a picture made of the entire assemblage as a whole. It would have made a great setting for a movie story.

We trust that the event will be made an annual affair.

ECHOES FROM THE FEDERATION OF WOMEN'S CLUBS

State Meeting Adjourned Friday--Miss Clara Cox Recording Secretary--Prize Winners Announced--the Federation Funds

The session came to a close Friday. Miss Clara Cox of this city was elected recording Secretary by a unanimous vote. Other officers receiving unanimous votes are: First vice-president, Mrs. Clarence Johnson, Raleigh; treasurer, Miss Adelaide Fries, Winston; general federation secretary for the state, Miss Gertrude Weil, of Goldsboro. The other officers hold over.

The meeting place for the 1917 convention was left open and the executive board will receive invitations and announce the time and place later on.

It was passed unanimously that every club chairman be requested to get the members to learn the state federation song. The song was composed by Mrs. R. R. Cotten and set to music by Mrs. E. C. Duncan of Raleigh.

The federation has two funds of which they are proud, the Sallie Southall Cotten loan fund for deserving girls needing an education and help and is in honor of Mrs. Cotten the only honorary state president.

Morganton and Greensboro asked for the next meeting.

Mrs. Percy V. Pennycracker of Texas and Mrs. Eugene Reilly of Charlotte, were two of the most prominent visitors and made the principal speeches of the convention.

Dr. Francis Bradley of the United States children's bureau that is investigating the health of the child, made a most interesting talk.

Every club woman was urged to attend the great New York biennial which convenes May 18. It is the biggest meeting of them all and representatives will be present from every state in the union. Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Edison and Mrs. John Hays Hammonds will entertain the federation.

Ex-Mayor Fred N. Tate addressed the convention and told the visitors of the many good things to be found here, etc.

Mrs. R. C. Soyars, health officer of High Point, made an interesting talk to the federation members, telling of her work here.

Mrs. H. A. White told of the work done by the home economics departments and received close attention.

Dean Shirley of Salem gave an organ recital which was a very interesting event.

Miss Florence Housewald, of Kentucky, a graduate nurse who is devoting her life to public health, made a strong plea for her cause.

Mrs. Ellerbe from South Carolina brought greetings and praised North Carolina for the splendid work she was doing.

Mrs. Chas. Ivey of New Bern won first prize for the best poem of the year, Miss Ruth Howard of the same town won second prize; Mrs. T. M. Brockman of Gastonia came third. Mrs. Brockman took first prize in the story contest and Mrs. Bardin of Chadbourne, second.

High Point Cases in Superior Court

Henry Grissom and Jule Fagg convicted of robbery of High Point Motor Co. in appropriating $300 worth of tires. Judge Cline gave Jule Fagg 18 months and Henry Grissom 14 months on the roads for the larceny of automobile tires from the High Point Motor Co. The case against them for the larceny of leather from Snow Lumber Co. was continued.

Arthur Williams, colored, received a 2 year sentence for holding up another negro with a pistol.

John H. Champlin, negro, sentenced to 30 months on the road for appropriating a diamond ring from the home of Elmer Spencer. Champlin was at liberty on a conditional pardon when he got into the last trouble.

Chas. Hand, negro, sentenced from the recorder's court for wife beating and who took an appeal, was found guilty.

Randolph County Man Dies

Dr. Cicero Frazier, one of the oldest residents of the Trinity neighborhood, died Monday afternoon at three o'clock, following a prolonged illness. The deceased was the father of Dr. A. E. Frazier of this city, and Clarence Frazier of Trinity, a brother of the late Mrs. L. C. Barbee and related to several people in this section.

For many years Dr. Frazier was a practicing dentist and was well and favorably known.

The funeral services were held from the home Tuesday afternoon and interment was made at Prospect burying ground. The Confederate Veterans attended the funeral and took part in the services.

ANOTHER ENTERPRISE FOR HIGH POINT

Royal Hosiery Mills is the Latest Addition to Be Located on Hamilton Street with an Authorized Capital of $100,000

Messrs. T. A., Gurney, J. W. and O. E. Kearns are principal stockholders in an industry styled the Royal Hosiery Mills with a paid in capital stock of $5,400 and authorized $100,000. The plant will be located at 518 Hamilton street and J. W. Kearns will be the active manager. The order for the machinery has already been placed costing $10,000 and will arrive sometime this month. Half hose will be manufactured at the beginning and the mill expects to enlarge from time to time. The style of the machines are 220 leaders, the best on the market. We bespeak for the new concern much success. The hosiery business in High Point has been good from the beginning, 15 years ago and the Messrs. Kearns have struck the right trail.

Can't Vote Split Ticket in Legalized Primary

Under a ruling of Attorney General T. W. Bickett, interpreting the statewide primary law, the state board of elections has announced that an elector who regularly votes the Democratic state and county ticket, regardless of national party affiliation, will be allowed to participate in the Democratic primary and vote in the state and county boxes.

In his letter to the state board of elections, Attorney General Bickett says:

"Replying to your request of this date, I beg to advise that under the statewide primary law, an elector who declares that he regularly votes the state and county Democratic tickets should be allowed to participate in the Democratic primary and vote in the state and county boxes.

"Such an elector cannot vote in the national box of either party, as the law does not contemplate that in the primary one shall vote a divided ticket, though, of course, he will be permitted to do this in the general election."

PRESIDENTIAL STRAW VOTE

Who is your choice for president? About every voter is interested in the coming presidential campaign and as has been said, "straws show which way the wind blows" the result will be interesting. The tabulated result of the straw vote in the state nation will be published in The Review sometime in June and therefore your "straw vote" must be in our hands by June 1st at the latest. But the best plan is to fill out the blank today and forward to this office in order to expedite business. My choice for the presidency is
